An opportunity to acquire a substantial and imposing period home, rich in charm and character, situated in the Cornish village of Ashton. This impressive five bedroom semi detached property has features said to be original, including ceiling roses, picture rails and a striking mosaic floor, beautifully complementing the enhancements made by the current owner.

A particular highlight of Grenville House is the generous 19'6" kitchen/diner. creating an ideal space for modern living and entertaining. Set within the gardens is a self contained annexe, providing additional one bedroom accommodation. This versatile space would be well suited for a dependant family member, or potentially as an income stream, subject to any necessary planning permissions and consents. The residence benefits from double glazing and solar panels.

The main accommodation, in brief, comprises an entrance porch, leading into a welcoming hallway, lounge, snug, kitchen/diner and a conservatory completing the ground floor. To the first floor are five bedrooms, along with a bathroom and separate shower room.

Externally, the property truly excels. There is driveway parking for a good number of vehicles, along with well maintained front and rear gardens, featuring large lawned areas and an abundance of mature plants and shrubs.

Ashton is a village that sits between the market town of Helston and the historic village of Marazion. It is situated approximately two and a half miles from the sandy beach at Praa Sands and approximately three miles from the popular fishing village of Porthleven. The village itself has its own public house and there are primary schools in the neighbouring villages of Breage and Germoe. More extensive amenities can be found in the market town of Helston which is approximately four and half miles in distance. Ashton provides bus links, with a regular service to Penzance, Porthleven, Helston and Falmouth. National railway links can be found at Penzance.
